The location delivers total lifestyle appeal, the spaces provide a perfect opportunity to enjoy right away, then enact approved plans and permits to transform today's classically comfortable two bedroom home into a four bedroom, three bathroom family residence of fresh refinement. Period ceilings, polished floors, double glazing and a deep front garden currently complement the property, one of only two and the original home of the allotment, while a modern double garage contributes ideal convenience. Take your time to settle in today before creating tomorrow's superb spaces in a setting where a new playground nears completion and three primary schools are within walking distance. The shopping options of Borrack Square, Millers Junction and Altona Gate can all be readily reached from an address that's also impressively served by public transport including the 232 bus route that takes you straight to the city. A property of ideal appeal, personality and potential!
