Situated just steps away from the waterfront and the golden mile of Brighton, Salt presents an exclusive collection of townhouses crafted by Buxton Projects, embodying the essence of bayside living that transforms every day into a perpetual holiday. Drawing inspiration from Brighton's natural beauty, Salt encapsulates the landscape's character, offering retreat-like spaces that provide a respite from the ordinary. This extraordinary townhouse features three bedrooms, a two-car garage, and two living areas, positioned along Head Street. Boasting four outdoor areas totaling over 110 square meters, including a private rooftop deck, this residence is a testament to thoughtful design. Skillfully curated by the renowned Jack Merlo, Salt's outdoor spaces are a meticulous blend of practicality and aesthetic appeal, seamlessly connecting the interiors to the breathtaking natural surroundings. Residents enjoy a harmonious link to nature within the confines of their own home. The open-plan living areas with North aspects are bathed in natural light, fostering an ambiance of warmth and hospitality. Material choices for the townhouses draw inspiration from nature, featuring timber flooring and striking timber joinery that elegantly contrasts with expansive stone elements. This carefully chosen palette effortlessly bridges the interior spaces with the beautifully landscaped outdoors. Salt's kitchens are not just functional but also stylish, offering unparalleled storage and preparation space. Revel in the beauty of stunning benchtops, complemented by timber joinery and integrated European appliances, whether you're entertaining guests or preparing an intimate meal for two.
