If there ever was an opportunity to secure a solid home positioned in a quiet family friendly pocket of Chelsea Heights in a great neighbourhood, then this charming brick veneer home is it. This solid classic will make for a smart investment. On a corner block with kerbside appeal, this property offers exceptional potential for first home buyers entering the market, smart investors wanting to add to their portfolio, or renovate and reap the rewards. A well-appointed open plan kitchen opens onto a light filled dining and adjoining living zone and an impressive, vaulted ceiling elevating the sense of space. Three bedrooms include a master with built in robes and an additional two great sized bedrooms serviced by a central bathroom with bathtub, and a separate laundry with additional WC. Complete with gas heating, split-system air conditioning, ceiling fans for year-round comfort. The original home is begging to be brought back to life. A fresh coat of paint, new flooring, and a spruce up, this has the potential to transform this character home to something truly special. With easy access to Frankston Freeway and major arterials, public transport, schools, Edithvale Wetlands and just a short drive to Chelsea, or the pristine bayside beaches.
