New to the market in arguably George Town's best street, this large family home comes with massive potential and is the first time it's been on the market in the last 25 years. Being on George Town's most popular Waterside areas, this property is in a great location with glimpses of the Tamar and across the road, access to a waterfront walkway. This property is large in size with three spacious rooms and living spaces in the main house, and a studio at the back. This property also has heaps of off street parking with two in the garage and two out the front. There are also heaps of other rooms for storage and a workshop so plenty of space for a growing family. The garden is also very spacious perfect if you have pets or kids to entertain with fruit trees.
