Perched atop a boutique Art Deco block of only 10, this true penthouse is spread over the entire top floor high above the pulse and energy of Sydney's most fashionable inner-city enclave. A hidden world just up from Victoria Street's celebrated dining hub, the two-bedroom apartment is wrapped in a sun-drenched rooftop terrace concealed behind the 1930s parapet walls of The Turton with sweeping northerly views over the heritage rooftops. A sleek monochrome palette with Japan Black floorboards and crisp white walls brings a taste of New York style to the interiors with a choice of alfresco spaces for relaxing in the sunshine or entertaining against a dazzling city backdrop. Spread over 140sqm approx, this secret hideaway is surrounded by some of Sydney's best restaurants and night life just 500m to Kings Cross station and one block back from St Vincent's Hospital precinct. Step outside and explore the world of arts, fashion and entertainment at the doorstep, footsteps to local institutions including Darlo Bar, A Tavola, Bills and Gelato Messina. *1930s block of 10, secure terrazzo foyerA true penthouse with no common wallsA superb entertainer offering total privacy2 oversized bedroom with built-in robesMain opens to a sunset rooftop terraceNew carpet, ceiling fans and ducted airSun-filled living/dining, hardwood floorsNorth-facing roof terrace, open outlookBench bar, a perfect spot for cocktailsStreamlined stone-topped gas kitchenTerrazzo-floored bathroom with a bathSeparate W.C. and a large laundry roomStroll to cafes, cocktail bars and restaurants200m to St Vincent's world-class hospitalWalk up Liverpool Street to Hyde ParkMinutes to the CBD, 500m to the station
