Nestled within the enchanting landscapes of Blackheath, Rocky Mountain Cottage stands as a beacon of charm and comfort. This sunny and quaint free-standing weatherboard home was meticulously designed and crafted by a local builder, ensuring a harmonious blend of space and cosiness. With year-round comfort in mind, this residence boasts central heating, a Jetmaster woodfired fireplace, ceiling fans, and a perpetual breeze that gracefully meanders through its welcoming interiors. As you step inside, your eyes will be drawn to the magnificent floor-to-ceiling local rock-stacked fireplace hearth - a testament to the skilled artistry that defines this home. It's not just a fireplace; it's the heart of the house, offering warmth and a sense of belonging. This well-appointed, comfortable home ensures that every need is met, making it the epitome of effortless living. The open-plan layout seamlessly connects the spacious living area to the bright and roomy kitchen and dining space, creating a hub for gatherings and culinary adventures. From here, access the expansive north facing wrap-around entertaining deck, complete with a gas BBQ, where al fresco dining and leisurely afternoons await. The deck offers views of the wide private fenced backyard, providing ample room for outdoor activities and relaxation. Boasting three spacious bedrooms, it is evident that each has been designed with comfort in mind. The master bedroom, a true sanctuary, features an ensuite complete with a spa bath, offering a tranquil retreat within your own home.
