An attractive block measuring some 8,498 sqm* provides this five bedroom home with pleasing outlooks, privacy and the natural beauty of native bushland. It's a combination of character and comfort that's complemented by easy access to St Helens on the east coast, the beaches near Bridport and the renowned mountain biking destination that Derby has become. Such ideal surroundings enhance enjoyment of a home that features living and dining areas framed by timber flooring and raked pine lined ceilings while a capable kitchen offers modern convenience. This family living space is further enhanced by a recently replaced wood-heater. A separate living room adds its own personality to design where the generous family accommodation of five bedrooms is served by a functional bathroom and separate laundry. Sunny decks overlook the allotment's cleared expanses and the bushland beyond on a site that also features multiple water tanks, solar panels, a lock up garage, carport, storage sheds and parking space for several cars. The land is comprised in two titles providing further flexibility. A prime Pioneer opportunity providing immediate lifestyle appeal, possibilities for adding further improvements and for making the most of North East Tasmanian location with attractions in every direction!
