It's not too often you find a one bedroom apartment with a study nook but look no further, now you have! Situated on the top floor of only three levels, this light and bright apartment is just delightful and has a lovely view of the city skyline. The kitchen has a new electric upright stove and the bedroom is spacious with good size built in robes. You will really appreciate the study or dining area which is something often sought and seldom found in a one bedroom apartment. Split system heating and cooling ensures year round comfort and there is covered off street parking for one car. Situated so close to shops, cafes, restaurants and Auburn Train Station this is one very convenient yet quiet place to call home.
