This Federation-style original home is a rare find in the heart of Hurstville. The property is conveniently located just 50 meters from Allawah train station and a short walk to Allawah shops. It boasts a north-facing aspect and city views from the property. The land size is 486.9 square meters with a 12.19-meter frontage. The majority of the home is full brick construction. The property has a unique feature of rear lane access, which provides easy access to the back laneway, Allawah train station, and parking lot. The double carport plus lock-up garage provides ample parking space for residents and guests. The interior of the house features an original kitchen, two bathrooms and a lounge room with a bar & sink. The property has ample storage throughout and two bedrooms plus a loft room, which can be used as an additional room or study. This property truly stands out from the crowd with its unique features and prime location. Don't miss out on this rare opportunity to own a piece prime land with modern conveniences at your doorstep.
