With its own park, playground and walkway through to the Dandenong Creek Trail, this tree-lined cul de sac is one of the most beautiful in Vermont South. Number 11 rises to attention midway along the court with a curved brick-paved driveway, and a family home of grand proportions - 3 living areas, 3 bathrooms and a huge, covered patio for outdoor relaxation. It's an impressive family setting in the school zone for Camelot Rise Primary and Highvale Secondary (STSA), with great proximity to private education at The Knox School, and tram access to PLC and Deakin University. For families wanting a spacious and zoned single level floor plan, the home presents separate bedroom wings for adults and children. Bright living space then draws the family together with a formal lounge heading up the entry hall, a choice of formal and casual dining areas, and a private rumpus retreat set in the back corner with its own fireplace. New Fotile kitchen appliances give you confidence to cook with flair from a skylight bright cooking hub. Bathrooms present as a sanctuary to shower and soak up relaxation, with rainfall shower heads and a regular shaped spa bath. There's so much space here, you can work, relax and entertain with complete freedom from a tree-lined pocket along the walking track to Jells Park from this prize parkland position close to Bunnings, Vermont South Shopping Centre and Eastlink.
