Situated in a quiet cul-de-sac, this eco-friendly property ensures a captivating atmosphere, with the beautifully designed home positioned on a spacious 844m². Ideally located, just a short walk from the centre of St Helens, this property has easy access to all the services and amenities this vibrant community has to offer. And with the vendor motivated to sell, now is the perfect time to inspect this very special home. This contemporary home, built in 2015, combines modern living with warm character features. The kitchen and living area are seamlessly integrated into an open-plan layout. Sunlight floods through large windows, creating a bright and airy atmosphere. The open design encourages a seamless flow between cooking, dining, and entertaining. A cozy log burner takes centre stage in the living area. With its comforting warmth and charming flickering flames, it adds a touch of rustic elegance, while creating a cozy ambiance during cooler months. Throughout the home, you'll find beautiful Baltic Pine flooring that adds warmth and character to the space. It provides a timeless appeal and is easy to maintain. The bathroom is a true retreat, featuring both a spacious walk-in shower and a classic clawfoot bath. This fully insulated home has been thoughtfully designed to be both beautiful and highly efficient. With double glazed Stegbar windows throughout, and an expansive solar system, these features are included to keep the cost of living low. The property boasts cottage gardens with mature plants, trees, and lush greenery. These established gardens enhance the visual appeal and provide a serene outdoor space where you can relax and unwind. The current owners have also investigated the ability to develop the property further with an additional ancillary building (STCA). If you are looking for a home in a central location, while still achieving a tranquil feel, then look no further than this beautiful property, ready for its new owner to step straight into.
