The streets of Newmarket were originally used for the Inglis Stables, which is located close to the Prince of Wales Hospital, the Royal Hospital for Women, the Sydney Children's Hospital, the University of NSW, the most iconic beaches of Sydney, and the Prince of Wales Hospital. This stylish executive unfurnished two-bedroom / two-bathroom apartment comes complete with parking. Beautifully designed, the gas kitchen has ample benchtop and cupboard space. Featuring an expansive living and dining area as well as a private outdoor entertaining balcony, this home is beautiful inside and out. Featuring spacious bedrooms and exquisite bathrooms with built-in storage and cabinets. The master bedroom has an ensuite bathroom. There is wood flooring in the main living area, and carpeting in the bedrooms. This apartment comes with one secure parking space. The thoughtfully mixed apartment and terrace development at Newmarket is surrounded by 5000 square meters of parkland and low-rise buildings. The Newmarket development has a wide selection of cafés and restaurants right on your doorstep. Located in the heart of Randwick, the Royal Randwick Shopping Village is only a 2-minute walk away from the centre, and there are numerous schools within walking distance, as well as a new light rail service and a number of bus services available within walking distance. Taking a look at this stunning new development, there are a number of reasons to believe that you will love living here. Please note: Virtual furniture and display photos shown.
