Situated in a gorgeous part of town, this property is definitely a rarity, offering you scarcely available acreage in the popular suburb of Prospect Vale. This property is extremely private property, which also in itself is very rare this close to town, and you really do have your own hidden eight and a half acre paradise, where you feel away from it all, yet only being ten minutes from the Launceston's C.B.D and five minutes to Prospect Vale's famous country club. The gardens surrounding this property are stunning and you have plenty of spots to entertain guests or to simply relax, sip a glass of wine and watch the vast array of wildlife pass by, you will even find deer walking past the home on a regular basis. The house is very generous in size with 258m² of living space and you can easily accommodate a large family with 4/5 bedrooms, two lounge rooms and an enormous rumpus room. You even have a large garage/workshop, perfect for keeping hubby happy. Visiting this house is truly an experience of its own and you will feel at home as soon as you come up the drive way.
