Medium Density Block Only A Hop, Skip & A Jump To The CBD! Ripe for the picking, this medium density (Res B in old terms) 969sqm block is only a stone's throw away from the CBD! Lending itself to a plethora of options for future development (subject to council approvals). The overall dimensions of the block are 15.7m frontage and 61.7m sides as a perfect rectangle. Nearby are community centres, dentists and other specialty shops so the precedent is set for something special here. There is a low-set cottage in the middle which is being sold as an inclusion but is in near knock down condition / unlivable as-is. In this position with the bright future Bundaberg has for growth you'll need to make your interest known quickly! What's your offer?! Contact Bundaberg's favourite Real Estate Team, Brent Illingworth & Ethan McGowan, to let them know today. The information provided is to be used as an estimate only.
