Ever dreamt of building your very own home in the prestigious Jimboomba Woods Estate? Have you missed out on blocks in the estate before thinking they'll be another block come up for sale. Well, this is your very last chance to buy a block of land here. As this is the very last block left in the estate to be built on. Once this block is gone, then you've missed your chance to build here. And what an estate it is to live in. With houses selling in the estate for $1.2million and upwards. Your family's future is well assured. About the block---The block itself is a bit over 2.5 acres with minimal tree coverage. Full pressure town water and NBN are available for connection. Minimal fencing is required as the block is 80% fenced. This is the perfect place and area to build your dream home/shed and pool and raise the family. Take a drive around the area and discover the quality of homes that are here, and you'll instantly fall in love and want to live here. The block is priced to sell, and we believe this will sell quickly.
