Nestled on 6 acres of land, half of which is natural bushland, this fully restored Queenslander is perfect for anyone looking for a spacious and comfortable home with a rural lifestyle. The house has 3 bedrooms, a study, 2 bathrooms, dining room, separate living area all with polished timber floors and tiles in the wet areas. The kitchen is equipped with both a wood burning stove and a gas stove, so you can enjoy the warmth and convenience of both. The house area is about 160 square metres with front and rear verandas where you can relax and admire the views of the nature around you. The property also has a large shed with two sections, one with 2 roller doors and a 15 Amp outlet, and the other with a part mezzanine floor for extra storage. The shed has its own power board with lighting and power circuits, and the door openings are 2.5 metres wide by 3.5 metres high. There are 3 x 25,000 litre rain water tanks on the property. The land is gently sloping down to a large dam in the bush area, where you can enjoy the abundance of wild-life and birds. The property also has Taromeo creek at the back boundary, adding to the serene atmosphere. This is a rare opportunity to own a piece of colonial charm and rural tranquillity in Blackbutt. Don't miss it!
