Tranquil and secluded, the five luxury townhouses within Ombroso blend effortlessly into their environment. Nestled by urban greenery and surrounded by an air of sophisticated simplicity, building and landscape act as one. Here, you don't only find form, but a considered functionality designed specifically – bringing CADRE's design principles to life, from inception to completion. It's the beginning of a lifestyle defined by elegance and convenience, curated with life in mind. There's a collaborative ambition to build a landmark that redefines what is possible in its footprint. Committed to enhancing the urban landscape by employing a conscious approach, Ombroso is designed to sustain decades to come. Considered in its execution, the residences draw upon a natural material palette and durable finishes, establishing contemporary representations that cater to a diverse aspect of living.
