Enviably positioned where Hallett Cove rubs shoulders with Marino, there's no better place to plant your roots than this solar-powered 5-bedroom abode that tops off its prized north-facing rear with your very own pool. Calling home the high side of Jupiter Street, you can see the Gulf St Vincent - and those famous South Australian sunsets - from the manicured front yard of this wide-fronted home with a bevy of spacious living zones and a generous, nimble footprint. Only need four bedrooms? Bedroom five will happily oblige if you're the work-from-home type - or step up to the plate should you need a baby nursery within arms reach of the main bedroom and its ensuite and walk-in robe. The kitchen revels in the supreme functionality of its ample storage and quality appliances, welcomes mid-week dinners to its expansive breakfast bar, and feeds both major living zones; the true heart and soul of this ducted temperature controlled home. When the mercury rises, spill out to a poolside alfresco pavilion with mid-week dinners and this year's Christmas lunch on its to-do list. Need supplies? You'll arrive at the The Hallett Cove Shopping Centre just three minutes after you pull the car out of your double garage. When the shopping list is a little more specific or obscure, try Westfield Marion on for size - just 10 minutes away from a home that puts Seacliff's sands within eight. This is the one. • A neatly presented, periodically updated family home • Wide, sleekly rendered facade • Sought after south-north parcel with wide frontage • Ultra versatile floorplan with a space for every mood and occasion • Double garage and additional off-street parking • Full of natural light • Neutral colour scheme and striking timber-look hybrid floating floors • Ducted r/c and ceiling fans for year-round comfort • Solar system for reduced energy bills • Large in-ground pool with adjacent patio • Spacious poolside lawned area • Storage galore, including built-in robes to bedrooms 2, 3 and 4 • Dishwasher and gas cooktop • Easy-care gardens to front and rear • A short walk from Hallett Cove East Primary School, Karrara Kindy and Edge Early Learning • Less than 30 minutes from the CBD
