A classic old-school 1920s façade is just the start with this charming Californian bungalow that's been cleverly upgraded and designed to provide a versatile living and entertaining environment. It features a fresh and generous layout, lots of natural light and a great floorplan for an easy-care lifestyle, plus it's well-located within a few footsteps to Five Dock Park. The property offers a fantastic inner west retreat and enjoys close proximity to Five Dock's village life and is a short distance to Great North Road, the Bay Run and the area's popular schools. - An attractive double brick façade makes a great first impression - A generous and bright floorplan featuring many period details - High decorative ceilings, picture rails and original timber floors - A well-scaled single-level design offering four large bedrooms - Smartly renovated kitchen with quality appliances and timber benches - Plenty of outdoor living space and an all-weather entertainment deck - Landscaped rear garden featuring a private and sunny level lawn - Off-street parking for three cars plus a separate workshop/studio - Air-con, gas heating, surround sound system and abundant storage
