

14 Denmark Street, Kew, Vic 3101

House For Sale

Saturday, 13 April 2024

14 Denmark Street, Kew, Vic 3101

Bedrooms: 4

Bathrooms: 2

Parkings: 2

Type: House

Paul Walker
0418323122

Rachael Fabbro
0412547690

$1,500,000 - $1,650,000 | Auction

Elegantly Edwardian yet magnificently modern, this three-bedroom is an enchanting family sanctuary amid a flourishing garden setting. Enveloped by tuck-pointed solid brick, the home effortlessly deters the hustle and bustle of daily life, providing a serene retreat that is full of character and comfort. Beyond a return verandah, the home opens to a voluminous interior where soaring 11-foot (approx.) ceilings hang high above bold hardwood floors. An enticing contrast of past and present cohabits the rooms, scattered with ornate leadlights, plantation shutters, cast-iron fireplaces and striking pendant lights. The heart of the home is an elegant lounge room, offering space to gather family and friends beside a gas fireplace, adjoining a commodious dining room for seamless entertaining. Draped in Carrara marble, the kitchen exudes finesse and functionality, providing a freestanding Smeg stove and a Miele integrated dishwasher among abundant storage, serving casual meals and snacks over a central island breakfast bar. Extending outdoors, the spacious yard is a tranquil retreat for quiet enjoyment or lively gatherings, hosting alfresco dining on a sunny brick patio amid a plethora of blooms. Each bedroom is fitted with mirrored robes, serviced by a sparkling ensuite to the main bedroom, and a sumptuous family bathroom with marble and stone highlights, including an alluring soaker tub to unwind at day's end. Finished by a large European laundry, off-street parking for two cars behind motorised gates, and a substantial garden shed, the home offers the comforts of modern living in a vibrant lifestyle location. Only 150 footsteps from Kew Junction's indulgent eateries, boutique retailers, and city-bound trams, the home is positioned among Melbourne's esteemed private schools and Yarra River recreation.