'Braeside' presents a sublime combination of flexible and expansive floor plan, stunning period features and a highly accessible location. Featuring three spacious bedrooms, separate lounge and dining rooms, this solid double brick home retains many of its original features. Built in 1912, this charming residence boasts 10 foot decorative ceilings, picture rails and ornate cornices, leadlight glass, timber fireplaces and tiled verandah. It also has a large family area adjacent to the kitchen overseeing a north-east facing, sun-drenched backyard. The home is conveniently situated within walking distance to Rockdale Station, next to Bexley shops, eateries and cafés, as well as a selection of public/private schools. Parklands around Bexley North, beaches around Brighton-Le-Sands are both within close proximity, and it provides easy access to the city and Inner West.

- Named 'Braeside' by its original owner, period features beautifully retained
- Exceptionally comfortable and warm living area with grand fireplace
