Significantly, substantially expanded in a style that means modern proportions and period personality form a brilliant partnership, this superb family home enjoys a beautifully central Williamstown setting. The romance of a flexible library or sitting room and the appeal of a study featuring French doors set a charming tone, surrounded by four inviting bedrooms and a bathroom where a claw-foot bath and separate shower reflect the combination of classical cues and current day comfort that defines the residence. To the rear, past a decked courtyard retreat, family friendly living and dining areas complemented by polished floors and a lovely bay window include an open-plan kitchen fitted with broad timber benches and ample storage. A wonderful opportunity to enjoy a home where the excellence of the previous renovation clearly endures while options for adding contemporary touches can be considered when – or if - you wish. Zoned for Williamstown High School, walk to Williamstown Primary School, Nelson Place, Douglas Parade and the water from this exceptional home's enviable location!
