Best offers by Tuesday June 11th at 10am (unless sold prior) Standing on a truly magnificent park-like allotment of approximately 1374 sqm in one of Adelaide's most prestigious city fringe enclaves, this spacious 1920s bungalow is an irresistible mix of outstanding period character and versatile family comfort. Privately situated behind a high brush fence, the gently elevated frontage with a deep gabled return veranda is embraced by a manicured front garden designed by Uearthed Landscaping. Through remote entry gates, a long driveway stretches past a carport towards the charming original garage that is also ideal for storage. Inside, stunning century-old features are showcased throughout, including polished Jarrah boards, fireplaces, pretty leadlight casement windows, timber fretwork and some of the most outstanding decorative plaster ceilings you will find. The floorplan offers highly flexible accommodation currently disposed as four generous bedrooms, a study, stylish formal living, two bathrooms and sunbathed informal living. The kitchen forms a warm family hub connecting living and meals. Recently updated, it incorporates a central island with stone countertop, butler's sink, shaker style cabinetry and oak floors. Living and meals take full advantage of rear garden views, with pretty windows and French doors opening to a large decked entertaining platform that hovers over the expansive and private rear landscaped grounds. The deep rear garden will take your breath away. Habitat Landscaping has designed a tranquil urban oasis for family and friends to enjoy. Clipped box hedges frame a park-like lawn with a gum-studded backdrop, and raised veggie beds are enclosed in a parterre-like garden room. Beside the heated resort style pool, a large paved terrace is perfect for soaking up the sunshine or enjoying balmy evenings. With plenty of room to add a tennis court (STNCC) or extend further if desired, this outstanding property situated so close to premier schools and the CBD makes the ideal family home.
