This attractively priced home boasts charming blue gum timber floorboards and high ceilings that seamlessly stretch from the modernized kitchen all the way into the open plan living and dining area. This inviting ambiance extends into the versatile study, which could also serve as a third bedroom, positioned at the front of the house. The spacious bedrooms, fitted with cozy carpets and convenient built-in wardrobes, maintain the elegance of high ceilings throughout. The home further impresses with its modern designed bathroom, showcasing a sleek bath/shower and contemporary vanity. The combination of the bathroom and laundry creates a large space with the convenience of both internal and external access. Externally, a driveway runs alongside the house, leading to a single bay shed complete with ample space for a workbench and car. Beyond the shed, you will discover a vegetable garden ready for you to start growing your produce. If you are after an investment property, this home presents a great return with a current rental appraisal of $3540/week. This property, with its affordability, presents a compelling opportunity for investors seeking a strong rental return or for first-time homebuyers looking to enter the market.
