With a name like Banquet Delight you know a home like this is truly going to be special. New to the market for the first time in decades, this very loved unique house is just waiting for a new family to call it home. With a European style and polished timber features throughout including Jarrah flooring, kitchen and breakfast bar, this home is truly a stunning sight to behold. With a large open plan living/kitchen and dining space that leads on to the large deck out the front, this home definitely lends itself to being a great entertainers home and you can just imagine you and your family enjoying a glass of wine on the deck, while enjoying one of the sunrises the East Tamar region is famous for. Why not enjoy a walk along the river or to Egg Island Point Reserve. Pick your own fresh strawberries at the nearby berry farm in season, and with many picturesque wineries nearby, the best of Tamar Valley produce is yours to enjoy! Every room of this beautiful home features a door leading to either the balcony or the garden and the home is easily accessible for wheelchairs. The gardens around the home are truly stunning, with flowers and well established plants throughout and have been designed in a way that the half acre block wont take too much to look after. There is also a good sized shed/ workshop behind the property that could be converted in to a studio S.T.C.A and there is heaps of parking and room to build a giant shed.
