Arguably one of the best opportunities to buy land on the eastern side of Port Macquarie, this huge parcel is tucked away, offering an endless array of building alternatives. A gentle slope, combined with a level building envelope and a bushland outlook, means a total area exceeding one thousand square metres, where the possible options are truly endless.

Perfectly suited to someone looking to take advantage of the size, the lack of restrictions on the type of home you can build and tie the outlook into the design of the home of your dreams. The size, shape and orientation of this parcel also makes it suitable to create a home with a separate granny flat for parents or additional income, whilst still presenting plenty of space left for a yard. With land sizes shrinking, blocks like this are becoming increasingly rare at affordable prices. Don't miss this one. - Set in an established area - Bushland outlook - Just 3.0 kms to CBD - Just 800 metres to shops - Popular school zone
