

15 Anderson Court, Bonogin, Qld 4213

House For Sale

Sunday, 22 October 2023

15 Anderson Court, Bonogin, Qld 4213

Bedrooms: 3

Bathrooms: 2

Parkings: 3

Area: 3 m2

Type: House

Kevin Crasto
0402030553

Offers over $1 mil

Set well back from the road is this character filled pole home built with a mixture of natural timber and stone walls. With complete privacy and surrounded by 3.54ha (8.74 acres), this home is all about living in harmony with nature. An immense amount of love and hard work has gone into creating this retreat. Located in the popular Bonogin Valley, only 15 minutes Robina CBD & 30 minutes to popular Gold Coast beaches, this home offers an amazing lifestyle. The home is spread out into two wings and on three different levels. The main wing consists of quality sisal carpeted lounge room with stone feature walls, separate family room with a fireplace plus an open plan kitchen and dining area surrounded by stone, leadlight glass windows and doors adding to the character and charm of this home. On the upper level of the main wing are the 2 bedrooms with a breezeway connecting the second wing featuring a large master bedroom/parents retreat with raked ceilings, warm timber floors and an ensuite. The kitchen is impressively equipped with an Esse wood stove, separate gas cooker and oven. There is also large amount of bench space and storage space. For entertaining outdoors, there is a covered area overlooking a large flat grass pad ideal for children to play safely. The rest of the land is covered in native bushland, summer creeks and is filled with local fauna. The property backs onto the Bonogin Fire track and just under 25,000 acres of Springbrook reserve. There are great bushwalking tracks for exploring here, all with access from your own backyard. Other features include solar power system connected back to the grid, a full 12v electrical system wired into the home with battery back-up, large water tanks, solar powered hot water system with gas back-up, double carport with a workshop area plus a separate lock up garage/shed. If you are looking for a lifestyle with minimum carbon footprint and to absorb what comes natural in life by living away from distractions and demands of our regular life, this home in the Gold Coast Hinterland is one you must inspect.