This warm and inviting family home was designed to take advantage of the captivating mountain range views, including the McPherson and Border ranges, and the Lamington and Springbrook plateaus. The sunset-coloured vistas across the sparkling pool and the large grassy block of land (1,416m²) are truly breathtaking. The wide entry flows into spacious living areas, including the lounge room (complete with combustion fireplace), dining room, and rumpus/games room, with the well-appointed kitchen at the heart of all three areas. Featuring an almost new five-burner freestanding stove and cooktop with built in air-fryer, stone bench tops, dishwasher, and oodles of cabinetry. The open plan of this zone allows multiple access points to the sizeable deck area which overlooks the sparkling pool. Here you can relax in the afternoon with a refreshing drink or start your morning with a coffee and take in the serenity of the home. The block of land is reasonably flat and slopes gently downhill towards the rear of the block, which provides plenty of room for the kids to play cricket or jump on a trampoline. Or if you fancy creating a beautiful garden, the rich volcanic soil of this area will yield plentiful results. With the home positioned towards the front of the block, there is also ample room for a man cave or granny flat at the rear of the property (subject to council approval) with easy side access thanks to the tandem carport. Three carpeted bedrooms and two renovated bathrooms are privately partitioned from the living area by an internal brick feature wall and hallway. The master bedroom features ensuite and walk through robe and views out to the pool and mountains. This home is spacious and comfortable with an opportunity room to add your own touches, or expand in size by extending out, or up.
