Packed with potential... this 1950s Queenslander is ready for your finishing touches. You'll love the high ceilings, built-in wardrobes and cross-functional sleepouts, which can be repurposed as additional bedrooms, office or living space. Features of the home include air conditioning, ceiling fans and French doors with gorgeous textured glass. We love the green plantation shutters, which add a vintage feel while maximising airflow. This home sits on a large, 759 sqm block that can be accessed from Anderson Street in the front and Davis Lane in the back. The low-maintenance garden includes a handy shed, complete with power. As the new owner, you'll also have the advantage of a lockable under-house area with masses of storage room. Find yourself in Allentown, with local schools and shops just a stone's throw away.
