A gloriously restored Orange classic on a 2020-square-metre block with amazing gardens, just two blocks from the centre of town. Make no mistake: 16 March Street is something truly special. The double brick Californian bungalow is built on a bluestone base, with all of its original fixtures lovingly maintained or beautifully restored, including high ceilings, polished timber floorboards, bespoke cornices and stained-glass windows. The four bedrooms are spacious and equipped with glorious timber wardrobes, as well as bay windows with seating in the front-facing pair. The central kitchen has enjoyed substantial upgrades and boasts a huge walk-in pantry and sleek new appliances, including a Smeg oven, while the two bathrooms have also been given modern updates. The garden is simply spectacular, with a glorious arrangement of superb established trees, bushes, flowers and lawns. The best vantage point to take in the greenery is undoubtedly the huge yet private undercover entertaining area, which has been fitted with zip blinds to facilitate year-round use. With its stunning period features and unmatched central location, 16 March Street underscores why restored Californian bungalows are an Orange classic.
