Main Road in Riddells Creek is cherished for many things – geese, galleries, parks, and of course this exceptional family home. Unrecognisable from her former self, a thoughtful extension and renovation has transformed the space into a modern and comfortable place to call home. With Tasmanian Oak floors underfoot, the home is warm, light, and generous in proportions. And like all good homes, it begins in the kitchen where a standout 110cm Belling oven takes centre stage, backed by stone benchtops, farmhouse sink, integrated dishwasher, and a soft natural palette. Open plan for ease of living and warmed via a gas log fire, here is where you can dine and relax in the north-eastern sun. Off the family room are three robed bedrooms, French style bathroom with claw foot bath, and loads of storage. Tucked away for privacy, the north-west wing is home to the master suite (with ensuite and walk-in-robe) and formal dining and lounge where you can entertain in style underneath a stunning cathedral ceiling, with a woodfire heater and classic bay windows adding warmth and green garden vistas. With just over half an acre of land to call your own, there's a myriad of trees bursting with colour and produce – weeping cherry, weeping gooseberry, manchurian pear, magnolias, and a standout maple. A double carport plus a double garage is ideal, with garden shed, woodshed, and lean-to for more outdoor options. Extending the floorplan is a great size undercover deck, perfect all year round. Further features include a dedicated study, evaporative cooling, 5kw solar, water tanks, and town water/gas. In the heart of Riddells Creek within walking distance to all your favourite cafes, shops, and school, location is perfect. There's nothing to do and everything to gain – love where you live in this renovated country charmer. (In addition to this property, you may purchase separately, a 1 bedroom self contained unit/bungalow for independent living).
