In more detail This eye-catching large family home on a private acreage of 7.60ha has been built to embrace both easy country-style living and a small acreage tree change opportunity. Featuring ample space within the home with vast timber floors flowing out to wide undercover verandas around all four sides of the house, well set up vegetable plots, and endless potential for outdoor projects, this well-equipped property allows for the simpler and quieter day to day life you have been dreaming of. Solar panels will keep your power costs down and with the large woodfire and dedicated vegetable gardens a more sustainable way of living is a definite possibility. The well serviced town of Beaconsfield is within walking distance and Launceston is just 40mins away by car. You are also within easy reach of some of Northern Tasmania's most recognised vineyards, forest reserves and favourite beaches.
