You simply will not find better value than this solidly built home in Gingin. The spacious, open living area features raked ceilings, a built-in bar, split-system air-con, wood fire and ceiling fans. There is a separate sunken lounge, which could be an activity space for kids. The kitchen is at the heart of the home, with a dishwasher, gas cooktop, rangehood, built-in pantry and island bench. The large master bedroom has ensuite and walk-in robe. Ducted evaporative air conditioning, solar power, solar hot water and ceiling fans provide economical comfort and convenience. The 1,000 square metre property features stunning gardens with granite retaining walls, huge outdoor entertaining area and 6m x 9m powered shed. There is a side access to the shed and plenty of room to park a boat or caravan. This versatile home would be perfect for retirees, first homebuyers or investors. It is situated in a quiet part of town close to school and shops. With a new shopping centre coming soon, Gingin will have everything you need without the craziness of suburbia.
