Located in a stunning development of similarly stylish residences, this impressive two-storey home offers an enticing lifestyle within a looked-for location that leaves you wanting for nothing. The ground floor offers an expansive open plan living area, stretching out from a stunning kitchen that blends black stone bench tops, premium stainless-steel appliances and a mirrored splash back in a carefully considered display of form and function. Seamlessly extending out to a paved entertainment area in a surprisingly spacious rear yard there is plenty of room for relaxed entertaining inside and out. An open study anchors a first floor that comprises two robed bedrooms (one built-in, the other a generous walk-in) sharing a bathroom with an oversize shower (rain head) and a designer vanity. Making every day living just that little more special are extra's including ducted heating, guest powder room, laundry, and undercover parking right at the door. Footsteps to parklands it's a short walk to the dining and shopping options of Uni-hill, including the baker, butcher, fruit shop and supermarket. The 86 tram to the city is almost as close and RMIT is not much further.
