There is nothing better than to wake up with a coffee whilst watching the sunrise over Thirteenth Beach, then having the opportunity to relax at the end of the day with the fresh ocean breeze on the balconies. A highlight for the kids is inviting friends around and enjoying time in the pool and when evening comes, we thoroughly enjoy stargazing with a glass of wine in-hand by the fire pit. This area has an excellent community feel with a choice of parks only a short stroll away – it really is a home that we feel has something for everyone."
