Set beyond a charming picket fence and rose garden, this freestanding Edwardian is where original character and potential converge, inviting you to be part of its ongoing story. Welcomed by classic timber floors and a fretwork-adorned hallway, the floorplan offers the comfort of a spacious living room, a separate dining room, and a modern dine-in kitchen. The adjoining sunroom meets demands as an office when working from home or as an additional living space, which transitions to the north-facing rear garden. With the groundwork in place, envision your ideal indoor-outdoor living area or embrace the garden and its current openness, bathed in sunshine and with a border of tall greenery and privacy. Comfortable now with room to extend (STCA) in time, the home's two robed bedrooms are serviced by a central bathroom, with a laundry completing the conveniences. Finished with reverse cycle air conditioning and a shed, it's a stone's throw from Victoria Gardens, Hawskburn Village, Chapel St's bars, restaurants and shops, Prahran Aquatic Centre, and trams.
