Featuring an unusually wide 20.4m frontage, this character-filled freestanding residence has been recently refreshed while retaining plenty of its original appeal. Set on a 227 sqm dual-access corner parcel of land, it's framed by low-maintenance garden terraces. Lovely and private, it's tucked away in a particularly peaceful enclave just a brief walk to both Leichhardt and Annandale Villages. - Three bedrooms with built-in wardrobes, the main with soaring ceilings and a contemporary ensuite - Classic living and dining space encompasses a neat open gas kitchen with stainless steel appliances- It opens to a low maintenance wraparound courtyard with convenient side access- The main heritage style bathroom is finished in traditional tiles and features a bath- Timber floorboards, ornate fretwork and cedar joinery serve as a gracious reminder of the home's c1915 heritage- Additional features include air conditioning, skylights, gas bayonets, security grilles, loads of storage and an auto lock-up garage
