This mid-century modern residence is set on a sun-drenched corner parcel of land with spectacular gun-barrel views down Sydney Harbour to the Opera House, Harbour Bridge and Blue Mountains beyond. The 1960's modernist design centres around an entertainer's internal terrazzo courtyard featuring circular cross-breeze ventilation blocks and sculptural succulent garden beds. The kitchen is designed by award-winning architects Chenchow Little and features original parquet floors, harmoniously incorporated with contemporary custom joinery and sweeping curved Corian cantilevered benchtops. Three bedrooms and main living areas have direct access to the courtyard on the upper level, with a fourth bedroom and second living area downstairs opening to a private level lawn, sparkling swimming pool and double remote garage with internal access. Conveniently located moments to prestigious schools, Vaucluse and Rose Bay villages, public transport and harbour beaches.
