This architecturally designed free standing property is defined by expansive dimensions and impressive attention to detail. Walking through the front door, you are welcomed into a quiet, private and secure oasis with a luxurious floor plan ideal for enjoying intimate gatherings or entertaining larger groups. Entering into a substantial living and dining area, you'll be encapsulated by the over-sized kitchen with an abundance of storage, complimented perfectly by a decked undercover alfresco and low maintenance garden and lawn area. Three extra-large bedrooms, each with built-in robes, provide all household members with their own sanctuary. The Master bedroom is serviced by a standalone ensuite, whilst the central bathroom contains a separate bath and shower. A separate toilet, heating/cooling, large laundry, a secure garage and garden shed add the finishing touches to this remarkable property. Positioned at the rear of the allotment and just moments from Ainsworth reserve, public transport options, the thriving Glengala Road shopping precinct and several schools, this address is perfect for the first home buyer, downsizers, growing families and investors. Photo ID is required upon entry.
