This tri-level townhouse basks in natural light thanks to its fantastic northern aspect that welcomes the winter sun. The layout is a clever piece of design with the split-level open plan living area and kitchen situated mid-floor and effortless connection to a balcony that's just perfect for kicking back and enjoying the outdoors, whether you're dining or just soaking in the sun. The floorplan is flexible, giving you a choice for your en-suited bedroom. It's your call - ground floor or top floor, whichever suits your style and preferences. And as a sweet bonus, there's a double garage, although with the convenience of easy bike rides or leisurely strolls, you can leave your four-wheeler at home and fully embrace the vibrant neighbourhood on foot. This prime address has all the inner-city vibes, with Honeysuckle and the harbour right at your doorstep and you're just footsteps away from trams and trains at Newcastle Interchange.
