This spacious, split-level home is nestled in a tranquil neighbourhood, offering a delightful blend of contemporary design and classic appeal with the added potential for strata unit development, subject to council approval. With four spacious bedrooms and an additional study, this property is ideal for growing families, professionals, or anyone who appreciates ample living space. The property's double-glazed windows not only enhance its aesthetic appeal but also contribute to energy efficiency and noise reduction, ensuring a peaceful and serene atmosphere throughout the home. One of the standout features of this residence is the presence of multiple living areas. These well-appointed spaces provide versatility and flexibility for various needs and occasions. The master suite is a stand out with hotel style features including access to the balcony, large designer ensuite and walk in robe and bar fridge in a kitchenette area. The timeless kitchen has an abundance of storage, coffee station nook, island bench, quality appliances and access to the covered alfresco area. The dining area is conveniently located adjacent to the kitchen with a powder room close by. The study has built in cabinetry and is the perfect work from home space. There is a spacious lounge room and a separate large theatre room for your family to enjoy. What truly sets this property apart is its potential for development. Subject to council approval, there's the opportunity to build a strata unit, offering an excellent investment prospect or land banking opportunity. Situated in Kingston, this home offers easy access to a plethora of amenities, including schools, parks, shopping centres, and dining options. Commuting is hassle-free and Hobart CBD a short 10-minute drive away. This property promises a life of comfort, convenience, and style for its lucky inhabitants. Don't miss the opportunity to make this lovely property your own – a place where you can create lasting memories and call home.
