Draped in distinctive Queenslander charm and boasting an array of desirable features, this 1950s character home epitomizes a rare opportunity in the current market. With soaring 9ft ceilings gracing its interior and situated across two titles on a substantial 677m² block, this residence radiates timeless allure while offering endless potential. The expansive chef's kitchen presents the ever-elusive opportunity to finally host multiple cooks in the kitchen. Complete with a versatile movable centre island bench, a 900mm Italian Ilve oven, generous storage, and stainless-steel appliances, this kitchen epitomizes functionality and style. Adjacent to this culinary haven, the open-plan meals area and secondary dining space continue the home's theme of character and spaciousness. Designed to cater to both formal and informal gatherings, this residence offers seamless transitions between living areas, ensuring an ideal balance for family living and entertaining. The informal living space features a bar and extends effortlessly to the covered entertaining area, overlooking the sprawling 14m swimming pool. Meanwhile, the formal living area boasts a quintessential Queensland front porch, ideal for enjoying morning coffee amidst meticulously manicured lawns and established gardens. Three generously proportioned bedrooms, each equipped with ceiling fans, provide tranquil retreats for the entire family, complemented by a well-appointed master bathroom. Additional highlights of this property include three air conditioning units servicing all living areas, a separate laundry, lockable workshop, tandem carport, and a 2,500L and a 5,000L water tank. Nestled within a prestigious dress circle locale, residents will appreciate the convenience of easy access to a range of family-friendly parklands, schools, local amenities, and the nearby Bald Hills station. Whether as a cherished family abode or a savvy investment endeavour, this property presents an enticing proposition. With authentic Queensland charm and offering a lifestyle of unparalleled appeal, this residence represents a captivating opportunity not to be overlooked.
