This quaint 3-bedroom home is situated in a quiet no through street with Roaring Meg Creek across the street and the Queenstown High School only steps away. The home has the character of yesteryear but great bones and could become a wonderful home for a new owner. The property has a separate lounge, with a reverse cycle air conditioner, a bathroom with separate shower room, a sunroom, and a single-car garage/workshop with an attached carport. The near level, fenced yard has established plants and trees and even a chicken coop for you to have some feathered friends if you like. Margaret Place is a house that could become your new home, a lick of paint and a few little tweaks and this house could be perfect.
