

20 Ancona Street, Rochedale South, Qld 4123

House For Sale

Tuesday, 28 May 2024

20 Ancona Street, Rochedale South, Qld 4123

Bedrooms: 4

Bathrooms: 2

Parkings: 3

Area: 732 m2

Type: House

Lisa Etri

0730598600

Submit Offers

This well constructed, immaculately presented, family home has been loved, and attentively renovated, over the years to create a contemporary residence that exudes style and comfort. From the outside, you will find a commanding brick facade with undeniable street presence and the carefully placed gardens and plants provide a welcoming entrance. Upon entry you will be delighted to discover a cool colour palette that is the perfect canvas for any style of decor, inviting you to bring your own flair. The ground level floors are graced with stylish tiling, offering easy care and a touch of luxury and the flexible layout will accommodate a growing family, dual living situation or a home business. Upstairs you will find an abundance of open living and dining space, and comfortable bedrooms, with gorgeous polished timber flooring flowing gracefully throughout. The kitchen is well positioned at the centre of the space and has been thoughtfully designed to encompass generous storage and preparation space. Combined with high end appliances including a gas cooktop with ceiling integrated rangehood, electric oven and dishwasher it is ready for your housewarming. Adjacent to the kitchen sits the light-filled dining area for casual family meals and the covered back deck is an ideal spot for a quiet afternoon drink or intimate entertaining. The entire home is air conditioned, for comfort throughout the seasons, and the 3 bedrooms on the top level include built-in robes and a spacious master bedroom. You are certain to be impressed by the luxurious family bathroom that boasts a large walk in shower, deep bathtub and wall hung vanity. The space is finished with high quality tiling, neutral colours and stylish tapware. The journey continues as you explore all this home has to offer with the fully fenced backyard that has been lovingly lined with selected native shrubs and lush foliage to create the most tranquil, and simply beautiful, garden. There is a floating timber deck to enjoy your morning coffee in the sun and plenty of manicured lawns for children to play or pets to roam. With lots of additional features including a water tank, solar power and garden shed. Situated in a leafy street within minutes of schools, transport, shops and local parks. You do not want to miss out on securing this property!