There's an honesty and authenticity to this home that's undeniable; stripped back to its basics just last year, the current owners turned their focus to creating a retreat with a strong visual connection to the phenomenal Pittwater views, yet with minimal impact to the ancient, rock shelf site. Its beauty is derived from the simplicity of the striking mid-century forms; balanced by the warmth of organic materials and textural elements throughout the home, there's an exquisite sense of unity and flow between indoors and out. Set primarily across a single level, it's a simple layout that's been finished with creativity and polish, revealing playful discoveries embedded at every turn. - Modernist design; extensive glazing and spectacular Pittwater views- Clean architectural lines join beautifully with matte timber floors - Double-brick construction, wood-burning fireplace, skillion roofline- Sleek new kitchen with Bosch appliances and integrated dishwasher- Home sits on an ancient rock shelf; lovely, terraced gardens in back- Three king-sized bedrooms; master with Pittwater views and deck- DA approved plans by Steve Koolloos of MCK Architects for a stunning residence on the site with three bedrooms, two bathrooms, studio and pool- Plans to be included with purchase of the homeDisclaimer: Whilst all care has been taken to ensure accuracy in the preparation of the particulars herein, no warranty can be given, and interested parties must rely on their own enquiries.
