The fact that more than 20 years have elapsed since this outstanding apartment was last offered for sale clearly indicates the appeal it has held for its current owners. It is equally clear that its next owners will also enjoy and appreciate this property - where the size, the style and the sunny full width balcony are instantly appealing. And the setting? One of Williamstown's best, just moments' walk from the water, the restaurants of Nelson Place, an array of cafes, Commonwealth Reserve and Liston Tennis Club. Proportions far larger than many contemporary counterparts can offer make a great impression, particularly in a living and dining domain featuring solid timber floorboards and floor-to-ceiling windows that reveal the balcony and its brilliant outlooks over the energetic streetscape. A granite and stainless steel fitted kitchen continues to serve in style while three bedrooms and two bathrooms include a superb master suite with its own balcony aspect and access. Two car spaces add ideal convenience to this exceptional, central location close to Williamstown Beach station.
