A timeless design that will appeal to all generations nestled in leafy Dingley Village. Get into the groove and embrace the vibe of this seventies home flaunting standout classic style. Perfect for anyone who relates to this irresistible era, it is also a soundly appealing setting on which to add some contemporary flourish. Approached via the service lane, the home has been designed to allow multiple rooms access to neat outdoor areas – and with lots of windows and plenty of natural light, it ensures the interiors are really connected to the large 740sqm (approx) block of established greenery. Secure & private, the floorplan opens to an inviting living room where a spiral staircase leads to a mezzanine study high up in the soaring pitched roofline – further on is a separate dining zone, while alongside the original yet immaculately-maintained kitchen, is a family room looking out to a sheltered patio. Parents are given a spacious master boasting an ensuite and walk-in robes – thanks to its front position, it also enjoys privacy from the two remaining bedrooms (BIRs) which together with a bathroom and separate WC create a great kids' zone - those working from home are not forgotten with the fabulous home office complete with dedicated entrance. A laundry leading out to the garden and ample storage are also on offer while wrapping up a brilliantly out-of-the-ordinary family package are ducted heating, two modern split systems and a double garage with gated driveway parking. Metres to the bus and moments to the village, this prime position is close to local shops & DFO/Costco and within easy reach of quality schooling and the Mordialloc Freeway.
