If you've been waiting for that quintessential high end character cottage, well today you are in luck! Set high on the high hill with an elevated outlook this home has a huge history with plenty of stories to tell. One of the original buildings in the Plympton ward circa 1890, this home has experienced a significant journey through time. The beautiful lead light windows through the home feature the local police superintendent's family crest, through to highly regarded local shipwrights to more recently the famous artist Robert Juniper who have all left their mark on this wonderful home. Set well forward on the 508sqm lot it's now a beautiful blend of old and new. The layout of the original home is indicative of its vintage with wide central hall, ornate ceiling and arches, rooms with grand proportions with their own fireplaces, original cut jarrah timber floors. You know you will feel like you are walking through a special piece of our local history. The beautiful rear extension tastefully ties in with the character of the home. The sensational chef's kitchen complete with its hint of old and the original meters stove flows to the open plan dining and Baltic pine. The elevated lounge with balcony that overlooks the wonderful and lush yard with a western aspect to Fremantle. Step into another separate lower level of living which flows through French doors to the magical yard. The lush tropical gardens are a real surprise. A spacious yard is very hard to find in the precinct and its recycled brick paved pathways, timber decked seating areas, lush lawn the original outdoor dunny all add to its wonderland. All just a short wander to the well known and highly regarded George Street entertainment strip with variety of wine bars, restaurants and pretty much anything you can ask for just around the corner. This is a truly special home in a wonderful location I look forward to welcoming you to the neighborhood. Call Nathan for further details.
