Welcome to this magnificent four-bedroom, two-bathroom sanctuary, nestled on the prestigious 217E Croudace Street, in the charming town of Walcha, NSW. A true jewel for discerning families, this substantial home is perched in an elevated position, gracing its residents with breath-taking northerly views that stretch across the town and into the horizon. The heart of this residence is undoubtedly the north-facing top floor, where the kitchen, dining, and living spaces are seamlessly integrated, basked in an abundance of natural light. Each room boasts panoramas that ensure every moment at home feels like an escape to nature's embrace. The generous bush block slopes gently, enhancing the sense of privacy and connection to the natural surroundings. Convenience meets sophistication with a sizable three-door lock-up garage offering internal access, complemented by extensive storage options throughout the home. This ensures a clutter-free living environment perfect for the hustle and bustle of family life. Living spaces extend onto a deck amongst the treetops, inviting the outdoors in and providing an extraordinary setting for relaxation or entertainment. The solid brick construction speaks to the home's impeccable condition, while high-quality fixtures and finishes, along with mid-century inspired touches, add character and timeless elegance. This is an opportunity for families to acquire not just a house, but a lifestyle. The property's expansive layout, combined with its tranquil locale and stunning vistas, offers an idyllic setting for family living and memory-making. Discover your own slice of paradise at 217E Croudace Street—a place where life's moments are elevated, and everyday living is an experience to cherish.
