A beautifully and lovingly restored cattleman's cottage at Firefly is now on the market. A tasteful and thoughtful process to bring back this cottage has resulted in an open plan dining/kitchen/living area with fully-restored cathedral ceilings, with a great sense of space and flow from the original design. The main bedroom has distant afternoon views and access to an undercover verandah area and the wood-fired hot tub to unwind. There is a wood heater for fueling the hot tub to be eco-friendly and efficient. The main bedroom also features its own mini wood heater that adds ambience and character to those chilly winter nights; all wrapped in a fresh timber feature wall as well as the cathedral ceiling adding additional space to the room. The second bedroom has very tasteful timber feature works that highlight the restored French-style doors that access the back undercover verandah area. Great attention to detail has been applied with the "love" showing through to the finish and feel of this delightful property. The "heart and soul" have been poured into this restoration and it is apparent from the opening of the front door. Currently being used as an Airbnb property that produces a great income and is highly sought-after with guests rebooking for the repeat of the wonderful experience. This is backed up by the reviews the property receives now. The property has an infrared sauna situated off the bedroom hallway as well as the wood-fired hot tub off the back deck. There is a large east facing hardwood deck that captures the afternoon and daytime breezes. Perfect for the hammock swing. A short drive to the highway town of Nambucca and also Krambach Village - boasting a classic country pub - the property is well-positioned for privacy but convenience to many of the Mid North Coast's features. The property comes with a full inventory list and on a walk-in/walk-out basis so there is literally nothing to hold up your country retreat getaway. Being a well-known property, interest will be high so be quick in securing your private viewing - all by appointment only. Please contact Steve Atkins on 0488 788 169.
